

*You're a grand old school,
You're a wonderful school,
We'll be loyal and love you for e'er;
You're the emblem of the life we love,
The home where we spend our best days, RAH! RAH!
Everyone comes back to the orange and the black,
Where we follow the golden rule;
But should old acquaintance be forgot--
You'll agree that we're one swell school!*
